Ms D Coleman reported she had been contacted by a number of residents about re-wilding verges in Sprowston.

Nature and green spaces had been featured prominently in the Recreational Facilities Survey and residents were keen to take responsibility for small areas close to where they live.

She proposed that Council encourage residents to cultivate small green spaces, maintain a register of interested parties and manage this project. Signage would be required to prevent scheduled cutting.

For the Platinum Jubilee, given Sprowston had three garden centres, Ms D Coleman also suggested Sprowston in Bloom and a competition for best verge and best front garden.

Councillors were reminded that verges were owned by Norfolk County Council (NCC) and the grass mown by the Town Council as a delegated function.

Whilst it was felt re-wilding could reduce parking on verges participants should be aware of the life cycle of wild flowers and cut vegetation at an appropriate time and also ensure it did not reduce accessibility for pedestrians, wheelchair and mobility scooter users.

It was noted there were several larger open areas on the highway where wild flowers could be sown in the centre and edges mown. The Greens on Foxburrow Road and Tills Road were identified as possible locations.

Mrs B J Lashley commented on an excellent presentation "Right Tree Right Place" given at a remote NALC meeting she had recently attended and wanted to share with Councillors.

She said there were areas in Sprowston where Council could plant new trees for the Queens Green Canopy and enhance and revitalise existing woodland such as Harrisons Plantation.

With reference to green spaces in the new developments to the rear of Tesco stores the Town Clerk advised that smaller areas of green space would remain the responsibility of the management company however larger open spaces would
